Okay....just seems like a long way to go to look at some junk. ☺

No concerns; Alec seems like a good guy, and he'll give an honest assessment.

Good question. I didn't go in November, so I want to hear what John and Alec have to say and re-orient myself to what is there. I haven't been to the facility since before they moved the final pieces in.

Give me a call if you have any concerns that I should be aware of.

Thanks,

Craig –

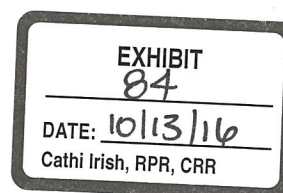

Not that it's any of my business, but....why are you flying out from Ohio to walk around the warehouse??

Alec and John:

I am confirmed for January 29. My flight lands at 10:29 a.m., so I should be able to meet you at the site by 11:30 a.m. I plan to have Greg Maldonado with me.
Please confirm that this works for you.

Thanks,

Alec,

I look forward to hearing from you regarding your availability to view the inventory from Star Trek: The Experience. Please let me know your availability to meet in Las Vegas.

Sincerely,

Alec –

I hope you're well and that the new year is off to a great start.

I know that you recently reviewed with John the pictures of the Star Trek Experience inventory. I understand the next step is for you to look at the actual inventory in Las Vegas to assess its potential as part of your upcoming "secondary" Star Trek auction.

To be most efficient, I'm using this email to put you in direct touch with Craig Freeman of Cedar Fair who can arrange for your access and review of the inventory. All information below.

We'll look forward to talking again after you review.
