And I just posted a note NOT to post Axanar articles on the fan group.

In addition I want you to minimize your time there as we move the Q&A to the main page.

Will pull out the tools necessary to edit a new video and then output it in the four different formats that the site requires (which account for every type of device that might visit it). Will work on that tonight.

Our dismal Likes compare to others is really a problem for us as we try to get more donors in next KS

Part of the issue that's hurting us on Facebook is having removed Star Trek from the brand, at least in the names of the groups/pages. People now pretty much have to be looking specifically for us, rather than us coming up in an organic search for "Star Trek" in the search box. We knew that was going to happen going in to it and there's nothing that can be done to fix that without rebranding the page(s) again.

And the Q&A is going to be difficult to do on the main page, since it's already like herding cats in the fan group. But, if you're willing to stay on top of that for prompt responses then that's wonderful and we'll work hard to make it a success!
